Hello There.

This is your last notification.

I hacked your system through the Wireless router you were connecting to.

A few weeks ago, I accessed the systems that you used to get on the net.

All of the data out of your devices was quickly replicated to my servers.

I have access to all of your mobile device messengers, social network sites, e-mail, chat history, and contact list.

My computer virus repeatedly changes its signature (driver type), so it remains unnoticeable to anti-virus tools.

I guess right now you see, why I remained quite right until this exact day

While get together info in regards to you, I discovered you're a big follower of porn web pages & much more.

You truly prefer to visit porno websites and look at kinky clips whilst having an orgasmic pleasure.

I have surely created a web cam shooting videos of you jacking off.

The cropping and editing of the video you were watching right at that moment and your genital masturbation.

Your own facial expression is obviously visible. I don't believe this sort of content will be really good for your personal reputation.

I can forward this video out to everybody who know your identity.

I additionally have no challenge with rendering all of your personal info open public in cyberspace. I do believe you realize what i am talking about.

It'll be a huge frustration for you. I am able to ruin your daily life forever. I really think you really do not want that to occur.

Now let's solve it in this manner: you transfer me 1500 $ (dollars) thru btc equivalent at the moment of payment), & I will promptly delete all your information from my computers. And after that, we will ignore each other.

My btc wallet address for transaction:

In case you don't realize how to transfer money and what Bitcoin is. Then type in the Google "Get btc".

I give you two working days to transfer the money.

The time launched monitoring automatically once you opened up this message.

I'll receive an alert the minute this email is open.

Don't aim to look for aid, as the wallet address can't be traced, address the letter came from & can not be traced also and generated digitally, hence there isn't any point in texting to me.

Do not make an attempt to contact the police & some other protection solutions, and should you choose to do, your personal information will undoubtedly be revealed. Switching security passwords in social networks, e-mail, and devices isn't going to help you, since all the information has already been downloaded to my servers.

Best of luck and don't do something silly. Give some thought to your foreseeable future.
